DEDICATION

We, the first Graduating Class of Princess Anne High School, dedicate this, the 1955 "Peerage," to friendship. It is our steadfast hope that the future will realize the power of friendship and sow it abundantly over the face of this troubled world; and that the seeds of friendship will burst open, take root and send forth foliage of goodness; and that this foliage will have the strength to wrap around all evil and choke it into non-existence. Our belief is that friendship, however slight it might be, is the most direct step toward world peace and progress. It is our strongest hope that we have gained enough knowledge at Princess Anne to contribute, in some way, toward changing the world's expression into a smile.

To bring about a better understanding of this book, we have selected hands as its theme. We made this selection in view of the great power of the human hand; the power to reflect and make use of the mind's ideas, to store knowledge on pieces of paper, to show friendship by a handshake, and to make books such as this possible.

CONTENTS

Each person must do his job and co-operate with others to reach any goal. To present this yearbook it took not only the photographer, not only the artist, not only the writer, but it took energetic hands of all three of those concerned, working as a team.

A Royal Tour

Going home! After six classes a day, the students load the buses and head for home, tired but happy. Our beloved faculty park their rattling jalopies and modern machines in the spacious lot behind the school.

Confusion reigns! Changing classes creates a problem in the halls of Princess Anne High School. Pupils gather in the student store to buy necessary supplies for the day.

Many hours may be spent traveling through the channels of time in this wonderland of books . . . our school library.

The loud sound of new modern equipment drowns out all conversation as Mr. George Alexander's industrious metal shop class is seen busy at work. The students in here make book-ends, wastebaskets and many other useful articles for both home and school use.

Underweight or overweight is the important question in this picture, as "Teeny" and Jean Ray weigh in.

Office training students engaged in learning how to operate the switchboard.

Below Mrs. S. Cox and Ruby Brock are thumbing through the files while Mrs. Margaret Dungan steadily types.

Our new physics department is well equipped with modern scientific instruments to further the knowledge of the physics students.

Student posing and sketching are some of the many activities taught in the new Art Department.

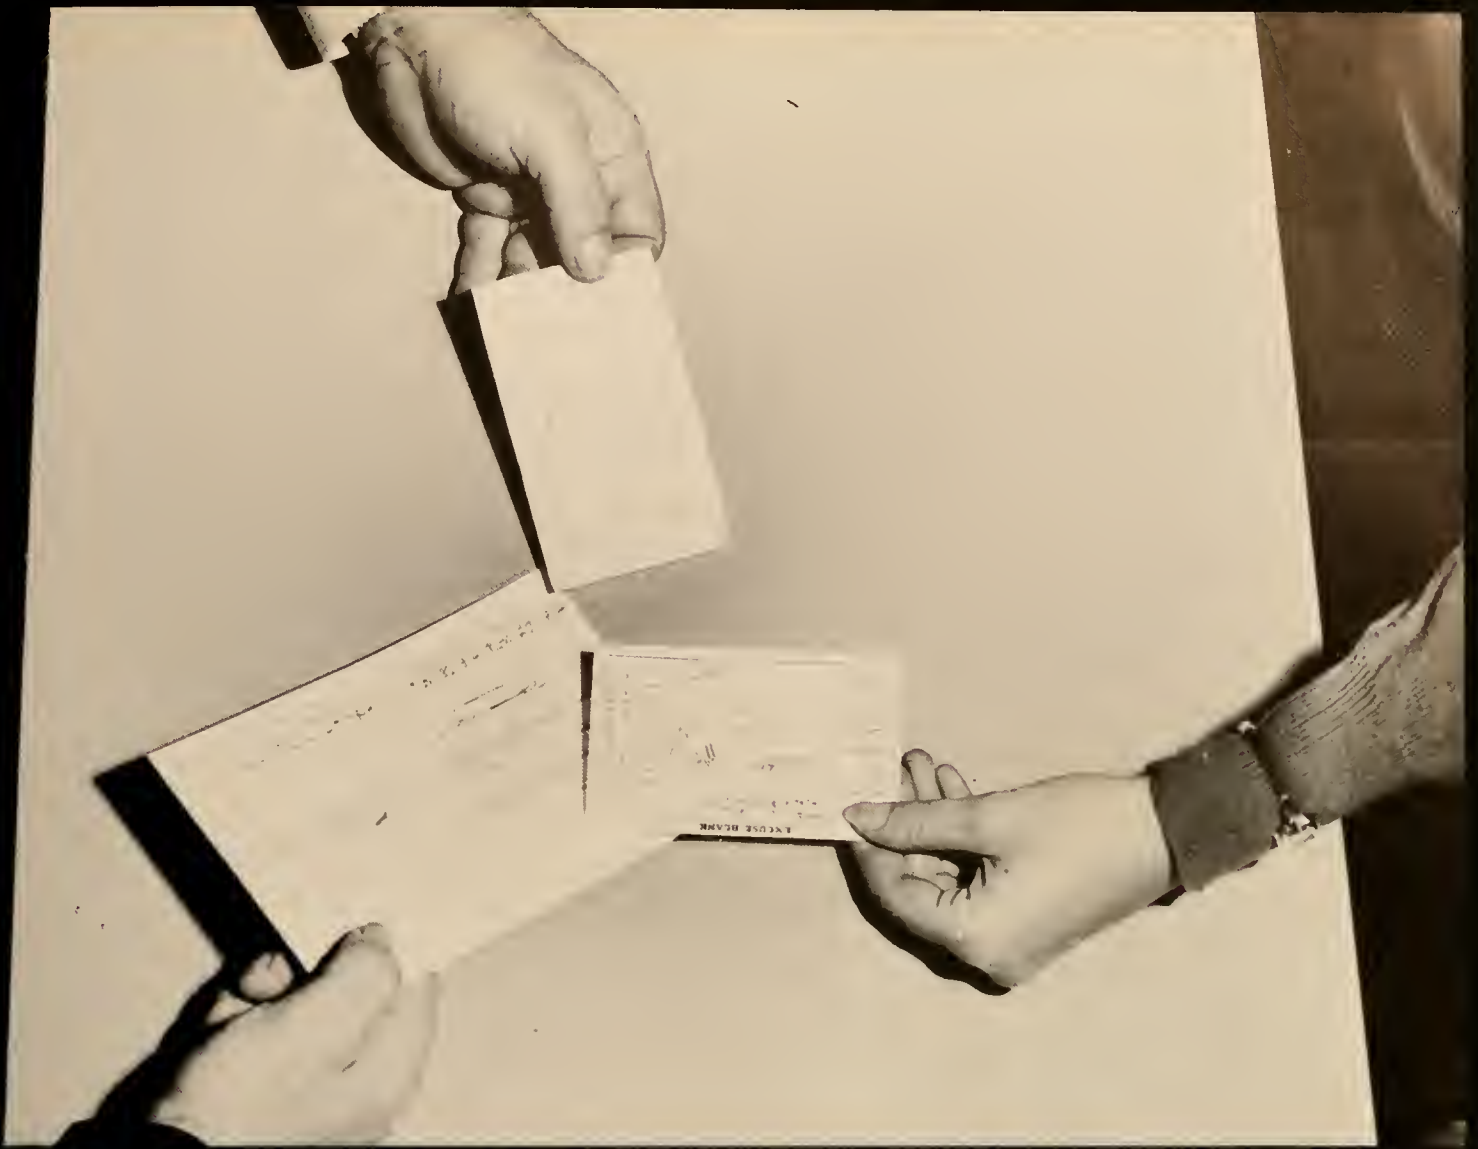

The eighth grade journalism class is shown earnestly working to learn the fundamentals of writing. This class prints its own newspaper.

The happy students above are attending Princess Anne's first pep rally, held to build the already spirited enthusiasm over the football team. New cheers were initiated at this first "lung practice."

SCHOOL BOARD

The primary duties of the Princess Anne County School Board are to select a Superintendent of Schools, to establish the policies by which the schools of the county are to be conducted, to set up the school budget, and to be responsible for the schools being run according to that budget. Though the board has no power to raise money, they ask the Board of Supervisors to allot it as it is needed. An awareness of the Princess Anne County Schools in recent years has been reflected in the fact that our school board has been successful in gradually raising the salaries of the teachers. The outlay for capital expenses has also increased by leaps and bounds.

MR. J. WARREN LITTLETON
Principal

A man of innumerable capabilities whose sincerity, generosity, friendliness, and deep-seated interest in the individual have won for him the love and admiration of each and every student and faculty member. Such a one is Mr. J. Warren Littleton, Principal of Princess Anne High School.

Fair but stern, kind but firm, we are speaking of Mr. Edwin Charles, our conscientious Assistant Principal. Never failing to fulfill his duty and never avoiding the issue at hand, he gets things done thoroughly. Mr. Charles, we are deeply indebted to you for your contribution in making this a school of which we can be proud.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Though the Student Government is the chief coordinating group of all activities in and out of school, Princess Anne High School started its year in a state of utter confusion. However, through the cooperation of the entire student body and the very capable sponsors, the new S. C. A. was soon off to a good start.

Among the first important things that the S. C. A. had to do were the writing of a constitution and the election of officers. As a result of the three schools coming together, a waiting period was necessary so that the student body might learn the best person qualified for the office of president.

The chief aim of the new government was to promote scholarship and proper care of the building, grounds, and cafeteria. A code of ethics was also introduced and a concrete study of such problems as school attendance was made.

The Princess Anne Student Cooperative Association was an active participant in the Tri-Council Association. It was also well represented at a forum at Miller and Rhodes in Richmond in February, and the State Convention at Madison College in March.

ORGANIZATIONS

PEERAGE STAFF

"Time out for a laugh," grin Larry Valentine and Robin Clair, busily figuring out a picture schedule. Both, dependable, original, and industrious, have lived up to the honor and duties of their position, as co-editors. The ingenuity and long hours of work by Robin and Larry, are reflected in the quality of this, the first PEERAGE.

The original "Peerage" is a listing of English nobility dating back many centuries. Its pages contain the names of the most important figures in the history of England. Thus, the Princess Anne PEERAGE is a pictorial record of the people and important events of our school year. In the yearbook, each person is important — each event a major one. The annual, to the Princess Anne alumni, will hold many memories — every picture, every name will be a perpetual remembrance of some forgotten incident.

The planning of "The Peerage" began in January, 1954 and the book was finally sent to press in February, 1955. The yearbook was financed by the sale of ads, by the promotion of projects, and, of course, the sale of the annual to individuals.

In keeping with the school, "The Peerage" displays new, modern, and unique features. It is $8\frac{1}{2}'' \times 11''$, escaping from the standard, $7\frac{3}{4}'' \times 10\frac{1}{2}''$. Another added attraction is the pages of color at the beginning of the book. There are 180 pages contained within its original and (if we may add) beautiful cover.

Busy hands sorting memories . . .

Buddy Redfearn and Dorothy Nixon, bookkeepers of the journalism class, have been in charge of all financial records. They were responsible for collecting and paying all bills.

The copy writers and artists of the journalism class are as follows: Shirley Gearheart, Ken Brethauer, Harlan Wood, Roland Harris, Gloria Winslow, and Nancy Goode.

Katheryn Ann Hutchison and Ruby Brock pause, only a second, to have their picture snapped, and then it's back to work. These hard working girls are the chief typists of the annual staff.

Headlines, by-lines, front page, layout—all of these terms run through the heads of the newspaper co-editors, Anna Bland Faison and Roberta Whitton, as they are pictured working to meet the publication deadline. Anna Bland is phoning in some of the headlines, while Roberta checks the last issue for content. Both girls must keep busy all of the time in order to make Princess Anne's first newspaper a success—and a grand job they did, we might add.

Standing: Betty Gilbert and Marjorie Spivey. Sitting: Toni Vera and Stanley Bunch. These four young journalists deal with the typing and feature writing of the newspaper.

The Page

Symbolizing the actual duties of a real Page in olden courts, the name THE PAGE was chosen for Princess Anne High's first newspaper. Combining the ideas of the entire Journalism Class, THE PAGE has carried many fine features which had been neglected in previous years. The newspaper staff has tried to make this first year more enjoyable by giving the students first hand information concerning all of the school happenings.

The newspaper published exclusive stories on the Senior Class Elections, S.C.A. Elections, and the Senior Superlatives. Such inviting features as a column, a trading post section, a feature story, and a cartoon added much to interest its readers. All sports events were covered and pictures were included in every issue.

Another new idea was sending Christmas Greetings through the paper. Many students took to this idea and for a small fee they were allowed to include season's greetings to their friends. The staff also included a special joke each issue which was called "Guffaw." In keeping with the custom of past newspapers, THE PAGE was entered in the Southern Interscholastic Press Association.

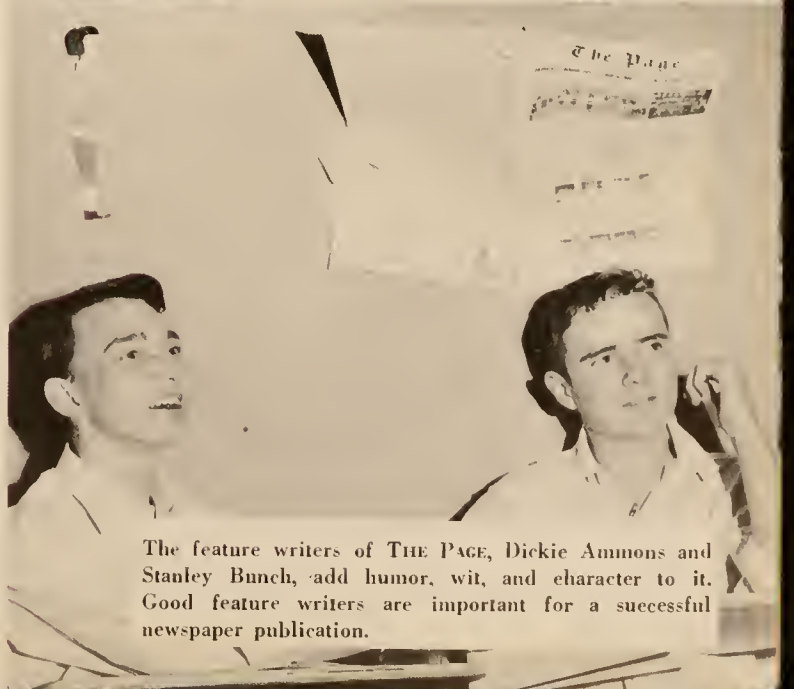

"One dime, please," asks Roland Harris as he hands a school newspaper to one of the students. In the background we see some other teen-agers already enjoying a bit of THE PAGE's humor.

Roberta Whitton is temporarily interrupted as she points to the headline chart, suggesting a type to be used on a last minute story. Luther Senter, Garland Skinner, and Dot Nixon look on.

Busily arranging a bulletin board to further the sale of our newspaper are Nancy Goode and Roland Harris. This attractive announcement ought to really arouse the interest of the subscribers.

The feature writers of THE PAGE, Dickie Ammons and Stanley Bunch, add humor, wit, and character to it. Good feature writers are important for a successful newspaper publication.

Mary Clay Nichols and Teeny Jones, co-editors of the 1954-55 COURT JESTER, were appointed last year by Mrs. Mary Barnes, sponsor of the Journalism Class. This is their Senior year at Princess Anne High School. Mary Clay Nichols was the winner of the I Speak for Democracy contest this year and Teeny Jones was a co-captain of the Varsity Cheerleaders. Their magazine, THE COURT JESTER, contains interesting stories and latest fashions.

THE COURT JESTER

The COURT JESTER, edited by Mary Clay Nichols and "Teeny" Jones, is Princess Anne High School's monthly magazine.

Short stories, written by the students, are featured each month in this publication. The latest styles for the fellows and girls, from New York, Chicago, and Paris are displayed in the fashion pages. Many other articles are offered for student reading pleasure, such as, comic strips, poetry, jokes, and an outstanding student for each month.

The COURT JESTER has also offered a series of surprises, such as complete coverage of the wedding of a faculty member, prior to the actual event.

Original and interesting designs are drawn each month for the cover. These designs are determined by some particular monthly happening.

A new Gestetner machine has been purchased by the Journalism Class. It enables the magazine staff to print its own pictures and material at a lower cost.

There are a variety of colors available for printing the magazine.

The COURT JESTER was entered in the Virginia High School League Contest for magazines and newspapers.

DEBATE CLUB

A group of young people from the student body of Princess Anne High School have organized one of the most successful and outstanding clubs in the school, the Debate Club. Under the guidance and supervision of its sponsors, Miss Connie Loving and Mrs. Mary Barnes, the members have exhibited considerable interest and enthusiasm in the club's activities.

This organization has several purposes. It encourages the students to become acquainted with current controversial problems. It teaches them to think for themselves and to think on their feet. It aids in cultivating poise and confidence before an audience. It helps the student realize that each side of a problem has its truths. It promotes the ability to discuss a problem calmly and sensibly and arrive at a solution satisfactory to both sides. In this club, the students are given an opportunity to meet and debate with students from other schools in the county and district.

Stanley Bunch and Est er Cando are calmly "discussing" a debatable question. Look's as though the poor male doesn't stand a chance against the powers of the female.

Miss Connie Loving supervises and aids Jack Oglesby in his preparation of a speech for a local debate meet. This part of a debate is most important in the outcome of the contest. "A little humor won't harm," offers Miss Loving.

FFA

The Future Farmers of America, which is a national organization, has specific levels of attainment as related to farming: earnings, investments, leadership and scholarship.

Some of the purposes of F. F. A. are: training students in agriculture leadership in the home, on the farm, and in the community; aiding them in the realization that a farmer's life is based on the love of nature and her products; encouraging the members in the development of individual farming programs; and creating among them more interest in intelligent choices of farming occupations.

The club gives students practice in leadership and parliamentary procedure and encourages them in the development of confidence in their own abilities.

Competition with other F. F. A. clubs in nearby schools in forestry, public speaking, and specific problems of farming is a high-light of their inter-club activity.

To fulfill these many requirements, the 4-H Club of Princess Anne High School has made many contributions to charity. Among these contributions were attractive favors presented to different organizations in the area.

The club has sponsored such social and recreational activities as a 4-H Talent Show, 4-H Summer Camp, 4-H State Short Course, swimming parties, dances, and field trips. One group of members attended the State Fair in Richmond.

As a money making project they sold 400 boxes of Christmas cards.

Several members of the club have their goals set for participating in the District Achievement Contest. In this contest they will have chances to win scholarships and to enter state and national events.

Each member of the club has at least one individual project which is developed under the supervision of adult leaders.

Miss Blackmore aids two students in preparing posters for the 4-H ACHIEVEMENT NIGHT.

Today, there is a tremendous shortage of good teachers in our country. The Future Teachers Associations in America primarily attempt to recruit teachers and acquaint young people with the many advantages and with the personal satisfaction of the profession.

The F. T. A. club of Princess Anne High School has attempted to introduce girls to the responsibilities of teaching and acquaint them with organizations associated with teaching, such as the V. E. A. and the N. E. A. The sole purpose of the organization this year was to help members to become more interested in the teaching profession.

Experiment? Show movies? Study planets? These were big questions confronting the Science Club members, ranging from eighth graders to juniors. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Mabel Taylor, Miss Betty Bracey, and Mr. Julius Williams, an answer was found. All of these were done. The "A" club (above) was named the Tri-Sci, and the Princess Anne Science Club was the title given the "B" club (below).

Objectives were to increase knowledge, perfect skills, and to try for an understanding of the importance of science in our lives.

Dressed in their smart red, white, and blue uniforms, they make a bright picture as they perform many intricate maneuvers, led by Mr. James Cantwell and a new addition, a drum major. The uniforms were bought by money raised in their "Million Penny" campaign at the start of the year. Sherwood Thompson and Anson Scroggs were elected by the band as co-captains.

Hands timing the beat of melody . . .

Popular, spiritual, classical, religious—all types of music have entertained the rooms adjoining the chorus class this year. The school's modern sound-proof paneling is far too inefficient to subdue the musical voices of chorus members.

The choral director, Miss Ruby Black, has formed a double sextet, which is the blending of twelve different voices, both masculine and feminine. These voices have to be specially pitched, for this type of singing.

The most significant activity of the chorus was giving a spring concert in co-ordination with the Princess Anne Band.

The club officers and sponsor have endeavored, this year, to broaden the pupil's knowledge of music theory and teach him the basic training of giving a musical performance. Musically inclined persons are encouraged to sign up for the course. New members are always welcome: a good voice and a minimum knowledge of music are the only qualifications.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Girls' Athletic Club had a very exciting year striving to make the organization a success. Mrs. Edith Shields and Miss Ann Boswell were the sponsors.

The club's purpose is to create, maintain, and establish sportsman-like conduct throughout the school. The colors chosen by this group were black and white. A constitution listing the qualifications needed to enter the club was drawn up and will become effective September of 1955.

This group, the Varsity Club, was organized so that students with a common interest (sports) and common ties (letter winners) could meet in brotherhood for the purpose of furthering interest in school sports and school sportsmanship.

OBJECTIVES: 1. To believe in sports as a worthwhile project. 2. To be a gentleman always, in victory or defeat. 3. Never to be accused of being a quitter. 4. To strive always for excellence of performance. 5. Never to bring discredit on the school or monogram. 6. To be a leading organization in service to the school. 7. To be the best example of inspiration to building athletes and to the boy students at large. 8. To respect all decisions of coaches and teachers. 9. To build among all members an "Esprit de Corps" feeling that will become an example to follow. 10. To possess a burning desire to win at all things attempted, but not with the sacrifice of honor.

AVIATION

The purpose of the Aviation Club is to arouse interest in aviation and to acquaint people with the importance of our present height in aeronautical science. This group made a trip this year to the Oceana Air Base and other aeronautical installations.

CLUB 'B'

AVIATION

The Aviation Club began in the year 1954 at Kempsville High School with approximately seventy members. During this school year the club visited Oceana Air Base and undertook many projects, which proved very successful.

This year the Aviation Club has become one of the largest organizations at Princess Anne, its membership totaling approximately two hundred and fifty members.

The Oceana Air Base and the Princess Anne library have been supplying the club with movies, covering the story of aviation. This year the club made a field trip to Oceana Air Base, and other aeronautical installations in the area.

The purposes of this club are to stimulate interest in aviation, and give the members a better understanding of the importance of air travel, and aircraft recognition.

ART CLUBS

As people walk through the halls of Princess Anne and look around, it is certain they appreciate the art displays throughout the entire building. The Art Club is responsible for this new mode of decoration. The non-artistic members of the student body are given an opportunity to admire and evaluate the work of their talented brothers.

Wilhelmina Rogers, Guy Wilson, and Gail Greer, all first year art students, study a series of paintings produced by the art department. These pictures brighten an otherwise drab wall.

STUDENT PATROL

As this was the first year of Princess Anne High School, the Student Patrol had many different types of problems to cope with. Since the opening of school this group has worked energetically to bring about order.

As its main project the patrol drew up a constitution which they hope will help to promote better conditions throughout the school. This constitution is written in such a manner that it raises the requirements for membership and makes it an honor to be a member of this organization. It prohibits those pupils making a scholastic grade lower than a C or a conduct grade lower than a B from becoming eligible for membership on the patrol.

This year, under the direction of Mr. Bill Bowman, they have attempted to overcome the many obstacles created by the consolidation of three schools in an incomplete building.

Janie Gardner, Pat Bradley, Secretary; Miss Browning, Sponsor; Vicky Watson, Treasurer; Pat Nottingham, Vice-President; Shirley Gearheart, President.

The Library Club is an educational organization composed of high school students. Its purposes are to assist the librarians and to help others discover the advantages of properly using a library.

This organization writes to other high school and college libraries for information regarding their club activities. They are planning a money making project to raise money for books. The greatest desire of the library club is to have more people reading more books at more libraries.

LIBRARY CLUBS

CHESS AND CHECKERS CLUB "A"

The Chess and Checkers Club was organized this year for the first time, in order to fill a gap in the school club program between those who were definitely interested in club work and those who had no club interest.

The objective of the Chess and Checkers Club is primarily to improve the skill of students in game playing to the extent that their power of concentration will be developed and increased.

Chess and Checkers are played during the club meetings and at other free times during the school day, by the members of this club, for the enjoyment of a good game and also for the promotion of good sportsmanship. Doctor Emanuel Lacker, a one time great player of chess, has edited a book, "Manual of Chess," which is used as the guide for correct playing. The club has determined a chess champion of the year for Princess Anne High School.

LATIN CLUB

PA - CO - HI PEP CLUBS

"Rah, Rah, Princess Anne!" comes from the newly formed Princess Anne High School Pep Club. Sponsored by Miss Bailey and Mr. Britton, the club's aim is to increase school spirit at the games. During the club periods the group learns new cheers and practices the old and new yells. At the sports events the pep clubs sit together to increase the volume. The Pa-Co-Hi and B-Pep Clubs sponsored a Pep Club Day in which all the school participated.

"Toward New Horizons," the motto of the Future Homemakers of America, best describes the work of the club. The F.H.A. set its goals high and climbed a long way on its ladder to success. To encourage democracy in home and community, to promote international goodwill, to stimulate the appreciation of the joys and satisfactions of homemaking, and to foster the development of creative leadership — these were the objectives of the Future Homemakers.

During the first year at Princess Anne, the F.H.A. collected old clothing for Goodwill Industries, and served a banquet for the Future Farmers of America. Boys' and girls' ties, bearing school colors, and ladies' hose, were sold in order to raise money to buy equipment for the Home Economics Department and for social activities.

FBLA

The Future Business Leaders of America is a club organized to meet certain extra-curricular needs of students planning to enter the business world. Its membership advances through three degrees: assistant, supervisor, and leader. Miss Helen Gresham, Miss Rebecca Bohannon, and Mrs. Hortense Eason, the club's sponsors, attended the state convention with the club.

Some of its important purposes are: to develop competent and aggressive business leadership, to develop characteristics and abilities necessary in this field, to create more interest in and understanding of the intelligent choice of a business occupation, and to become acquainted with new and improved business systems and equipment.

Miss Bohannon, Miss Gresham, and Mrs. Eason look through some business college catalogues.

Worthy hands accept honors . . .

BOBBY SAUNDERS, 6' 4" end for the Princess Anne Cavaliers, made All Tidewater, Group II Team. Bobby's nimble fingers tagged many a pass, and his lopsided gallop carried him over the goal line for many touchdowns.

JOHN CADDY was selected as left halfback on the All Tidewater Team. (His second year, by the way, as holder of this position.) John, a senior, is also in good standing scholastically, which is unusual for such a fine athlete.

Congratulations to MISS MARY CLAY NICHOLS! Mary Clay, a senior, won first place in the state "I Speak For Democracy" contest. She was awarded a television set and a week's expense-paid trip to Williamsburg.

MISS KATHERYN ANNE HUTCHISON was elected by her classmates as Sweetheart of the Senior Class. Her prettiness, personality, and charm were her qualifications to be the winning contender for this reward.

This bright looking lad, KEN WHITEHURST, a junior, was one of two students from Virginia to make the F. F. A. Club's National Chorus of a hundred people. Applications to sing were received from all of the United States and its possessions.

Leaning nonchalantly against a wall is ROLAND HARRIS. Roland is the proud designer of our school crest, which is used on the cover of this annual, and also designer of the Princess Anne High School flag.

GIRLS' STATE

BOYS' STATE

The honor of attending Girls' State, which was held at Virginia Polytechnic Institute, last summer, was bestowed upon ROBIN CLAIR, Kempville; MARGARET FORBES, Oceana; RURY BROCK, Creeds. These girls were selected by their classmates and faculty on the basis of many outstanding qualities.

ROBERT FORBES, Oceana; EDDIE BARNES, Kempville; JOE KEY, Creeds; and JAMES OGLESBY, Oceana were delegates from their respective schools to Boys' State last year. They were chosen by their classmates and faculty to attend this assembly, which met in Blacksburg, the same place and time that Girls' State was held.

Sally Baines does some "last minute cramming" for exams, while walking to class.

Three casual seniors, Doug Bonney, Eddie Barnes, and Vernon Gardner, enjoy a coke in the cafeteria.

Mr. W. C. Saunders meets with the class ring committee to select an appropriate design.

Dot Nixon, a typical senior, is pictured, "She'll be coming down the bannister when she comes."

The sponsors of Forensic Activities are, left to right: Mrs. Carolyn Atwell, one act play; Mrs. Jo Charles, public reading; Mrs. Mabel Church, public speaking; Mrs. Edith Barlow, public speaking; Miss Connie Loving, debate; Miss Jewel Whitlock, spelling; Miss Donna Connors, public speaking.

FORENSIC ACTIVITIES

Forensic Activities are important to a school because of the aid that is given in the developing of skill and poise in the student. The teenager who participates is familiarized with close competition that he may not receive otherwise, if he isn't qualified or interested in sports. The contestants are selected from "try-outs" in the school itself and those chosen will then go to the State Forensic Meet held in Charlottesville, Virginia. Debate, spelling, public reading, one act play, and public speaking are five events of the Forensic Meet that may be entered by any high school student in Virginia.

ONE ACT PLAY

PUBLIC SPEAKING

PUBLIC READING

J U N I O R S

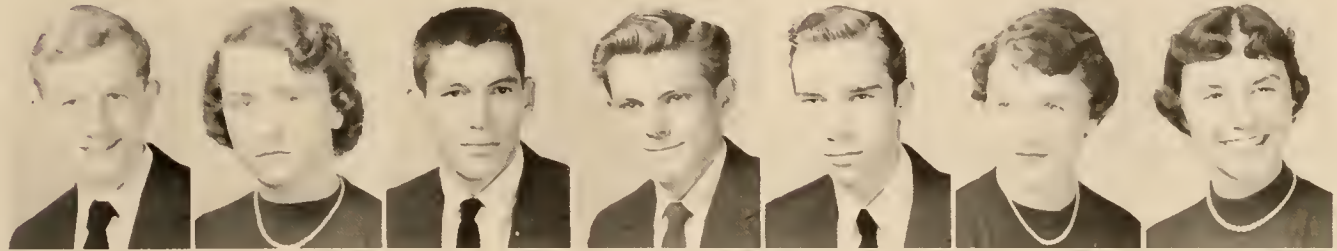

Carefully surveying the high school's activities and standing ready to strive very hard in an effort to make the junior class an exceptionally well organized one, are its four major officers, JAMES LOFTIN, president; TERRY PARKERSON, vice president; JANE PARKER, secretary; ANSON SCROGGS, treasurer.

Hungry students cause a slight hold up in the "chow" line as they tarry at the dessert counter looking for the largest dish. Regardless of this delay, the efficiency in the cafeteria is still outstanding.

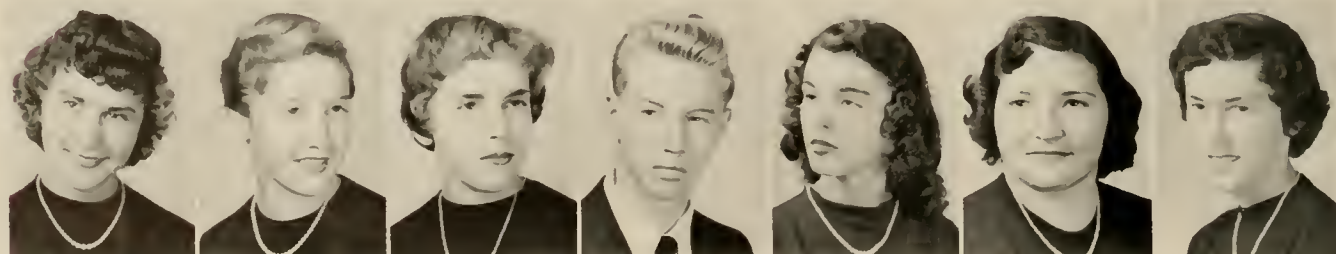

"Let me at him," shout these juniors as they ambush a senior in the hall. Only a posed scene like this could ever exist at Princess Anne; relationships between the two classes are extremely friendly.

SPORTS

Captains and Coaches

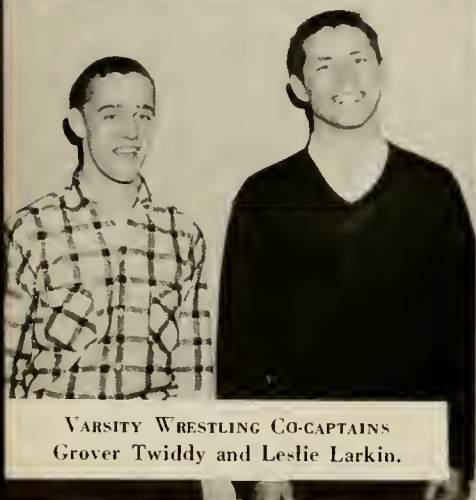

These people represent the very backbone of our athletic program. Their sincere and unselfish efforts to produce truly great teams command much respect and deserve far more praise than this limited space allows. The first year in any school is one of confusion and ours was no different. But these people weathered the year and their accomplishments laid the basis for the prediction that Princess Anne and excellent sportsmanship shall someday be synonymous.

FOOTBALL

The first edition of the Princess Anne Cavalier football team opened the 1954-55 season by dropping a tough decision to the Norview Pilots in the last eighteen seconds of play. The Cavaliers, under the direction of head coach, Frank Taylor, and ably assisted by John Zizak and George "Bernie" Shields, went on to win five games and finish in second place for district competition.

There were many highlights and heartbreaks along the season's trail. No one will soon forget the tremendous performance of the wearers of the Red, White, and Blue against Norview and Appomattox. John Caddy, Bobby Saunders, and Andy McCullar were just three of many who did their jobs well in these games, and how about the team's "go-go-go" against Great Bridge, when Charlie Campbell came into his own by racing for four touchdowns, and the entire defensive unit played inspired football. It was touch and go against Emporia but they finally pulled up to a tie after having two apparent touchdowns recalled. Churchland and Cradock stopped the Cavaliers in mid-season, but Deep Creek and Mathew Whaley were defeated by decisive margins as the season came to a close.

John Caddy sparked the team in its last two games, and Bobby Widgeon, John Drumm, and Jimmy Ives anchored the line in good fashion. Bobby Saunders and John Caddy were honored by being on the All District 1, Group II Football Team.

Happiness reigns! Miss ROBIN CLAIR, chosen queen of Princess Anne High's first homecoming game, bestows sparkling smiles on the crowd, as the Cavaliers go on to win the football contest. A perfect night!

Billy Sykes and a group of Franklin Broncos join in mid-air, fighting for possession of the ball.

Mr. Les Bertok and his team join in a good luck handclasp before game time.

Billy Sykes, No. 25, taps the ball to Tommy Copley, No. 21, as Duane Breitling, No. 28, breaks for the basket. Mike Melton, No. 23, and Charlie Campbell, No. 26, stay back in case Franklin intercepts the ball and makes a fast break down the court.

As the 1954-55 varsity basketball season opened at Princess Anne High School, three schools — Creeds, Kempsville, Oceana - were represented. Past lettermen were: Tommy Copley, Bobby Saunders, Carl Horton, Jimmy Bradt, Frank Craft, and Bennie Etheridge.

Mr. Les Bertok, head coach, was pleased with the large number of boys who turned out for practice. After elimination, Douglas McCloud, Mike Melton, Charles Campbell, Duane Breitling, Billy Carter, Billy Sykes, and Charlie Downs were selected as supporting players.

The squad's co-captains were Tommy Copley and Bobby Saunders and the managers were Irvin Robinson and Edwin Johnson.

Molding three schools into one, created many problems that did not meet the eye of the public. A major one was the question of transportation to and from practice, which was held in the Kempsville gym. All home games were played there also.

Getting ready to play Group I competition, the team started by playing three Group I schools.

Considering the fact that this was the first year, they made a very good showing in all the games they played. Now they look forward to next season.

Many basketball games were played this season. The picture shows members of the Princess Anne Cavaliers Varsity club, as they jump for a rebound and try to recover the ball for their team. Many hard, earnest hours of work were spent in practice by the boys in order to make their game more perfect, and to show good, clean sportsmanship.

Mr. Les Bertok, the coach of our Princess Anne "Cavaliers," surveys the varsity team during practice, watching for any weak spots in the offense or defense.

WRESTLING

The 1954-55 wrestling squad of Princess Anne High School, coached by Mr. John Zizak, was organized from the boys of three county high schools. They were Creeds, Oceana, and Kempsville. At the beginning of the season Mr. Zizak met some thirty or forty boys at the Kempsville gym to try out for the wrestling squad. After the elimination of some of the boys there were twenty-five left. There were about two boys in each weight from ninety-five pounds to the heavy weight division of one hundred and seventy-five pounds. The squad immediately began to get in shape for the first match of the season. On December 16, 1954, the "Cavalier Matmen" challenged the Virginia Beach "Seahawks" and defeated them, 44-8. They met Maury, Warwick, and Granby, losing to them, but putting up a good fight. The support of the entire student body helped build the morale of the wrestling squad.

Grover Twiddy is in command as he completes a "take down" which gives him points against Oscar Smith. He has been a promising member of the wrestling team and is improving with every match.

Twiddy of Princess Anne and Dobson of Oscar Smith meet face to face. Grover fought very hard throughout the match but it seemed that the road was too rough, Dobson came out on top.

The Cavalier grapplers seen during a vigorous work-out, prior to a Thursday night match. The shock of pounding and twisting was decidedly lessened by the spotless new mats.

An alert Princess Anne wrestler is trying to get the advantage of an experienced opponent. The grappler from Princess Anne High is trying vainly to "reverse" and gain the advantage.

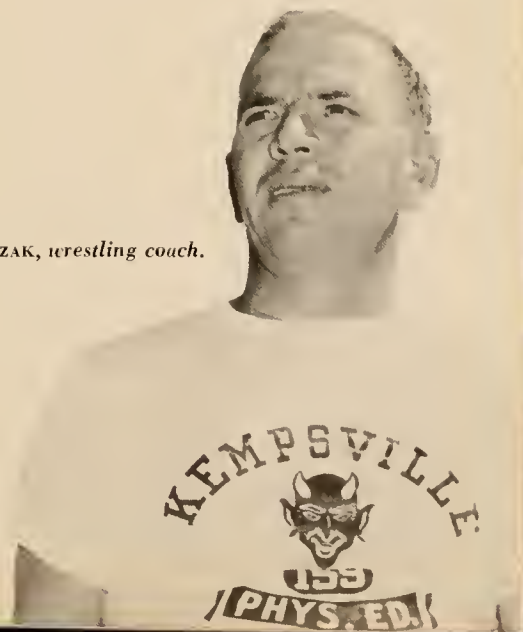

The strain shows on both wrestlers as 105 pound Floyd Davis of Princess Anne tries to beat down Wynn of South Norfolk. His hold is called an ankle drag.

J V FOOTBALL

Here are the results of fine coaching on the part of Mr. Lewis Breedlove and Mr. Les Bertok, who helped greatly in setting up a winning season for the baby Cavaliers. Although they lost two games, both of which were to Group I schools, they had a conference standing of five wins and two losses. The baby Cavaliers got off to a fast start with three straight wins. It looked like a perfect season for the strong Cavaliers until a determined Cradock team turned back the baby Cavaliers by a score of 13-0.

Here is definite proof that our Junior Varsity football team isn't all brawn. It is apparent at a glance that what the team may be lacking mentally is not the coaches' fault.

Best of luck to a swell girl, stay as you are now. Love, Dottie Nelson

I

*Princess Anne High School, most beloved one of all.
Thy sons and daughters listen to thy call,
And each shall cherish a fond memory,
And each shall pledge his faith everlastingly:
All hail to thee, Oh, Alma Mater,
And praises be, Oh, Alma Mater,
To us you'll be, Oh, Alma Mater,
High School of our hearts.*

II

*Our Alma Mater, the dearest to our hearts,
I know that someday you and I must part,
Until that time, believe my love is true,
And know there's nothing for you I wouldn't do:
Thy hallowed walls to me hold glory,
You should go down in history,
Because you bear the name of Princess
Anne
To us you're royalty.*
